Determining Your Request Status and Resolving Issues with Your Request

FOIA requestors may have questions or want to know the status of a request. Contact the FOIA Public Liaison for your state or for the HQ FOIA Office if your request is for Headquarters records. The Public Liaison will direct your inquiry to the FOIA Requestor Service Center that is handling the request.

Following response from the Service Center staff, FOIA requestors who require more information or assistance may contact the IRS Disclosure Manager, who serves as the FOIA Public Liaison for that Center. The Service Center staff member can provide the name and contact information for the Public Liaison for that office. The Public Liaison can assist with reducing delays, explaining the status of the request, and resolving disputes.
